Hello Wiz, Inc. team,

Wiz wants to turn distributors into sales-force multipliers across Southeast Asia, and building partner-sourced pipeline is the core of my current role. I am a Business Development Manager in Jakarta with five years of B2B sales and channel partnerships in enterprise IT and corporate healthcare.

I run a program of 20 active channel partners. Quarterly business reviews and joint sales plans grew our partner-sourced pipeline 25%, from IDR 2B to IDR 2.5B, in 12 months. I led a three-person BD team and signed four new channel partners, cutting proposal-to-signature time from 60 to 48 days by running Legal, Finance and Operations reviews in parallel.

I should be direct about the gaps: I have not run a two-tier distribution model through VADs, and I have not sold cloud security. My partner program is direct channel partners in Indonesia. I am based in Jakarta, one hour behind Singapore, and would relocate with employment pass sponsorship.

If the team is open to a channel manager who would grow into distribution, I would value a short call. My CV is attached.

Best regards,
Ryan Hadi
